K. & Texas. 5,600 421/4 New York, June 17.—Speculative deflation which took on the symptoms of collapse was effected in the stock market today. The violence of the break came as a surprise, in spite of the distrust lately of the high level of prices and of the extent to which borrowed money was being used to carry stocks on margin. The bear party which undertook operations on the short side based on this situation has met opposition so often in the shape of powerful support of the market that the ability to hold prices or advance them had come to be relied upon. The withdrawal of that support undoubtedly will be an important element in the weakness which swept over the weaklet today. Of course as the dealing.

undoubtedly will be an important element in the weakness which swept over the market today. Of course, as the decline proceeded the flood of liquidation was very much increesed, but it was not notably heavy at the outset.

The opening selling, in fact, was well absorbed and an effective rally achieved. At that point stocks began to come out again, partly from those important interests which bought yesterday to check the threatened demoralization then, and which sought the earliest opportunity to resell their takings and partly from the organized bears who had strengthened their position by large covering operations. As prices crumbled away margins were wiped out and stop-loss orders uncovered and soon after midday the market was demoralized. Development of the process of the wiped out and stop-loss orders un-red and soon after midday the mar-was demoralized. Developments in copper trade have impressed sentiment Unfon Pacific ...103,600 the copper trade have impressed sentiment very unfavorably, owing to the suspicion that speculative forces have been at work in the market for the metal to sustain the speculation in stocks.

European copper trade statistics show how a large part of recent and current American exports are going into warehouse stocks abroad, rather than into consumption. This showing had an effect on sentiment regarding the steel trade, where the current active demand still continued, but with the possibility, as in the copper trade, of an accumulation of stocks that may prejudice later demand.

tion of stocks that may prejudice later demand.

Some of the sellers of stocks professed apprehension that President Taft's special message regarding an income and corporation earning tax might be a prejude to revival of agitation against corporations. The paragraph dealing with the incidental advantages of the increased powers of inquisition into affairs of corporations growing out of the proposed tax on earnings seemed to be regarded as of sinister import to corporation management. The simple declaration of 2 per cent; semi-annual dividend on Reading yesterday contrasted so vividly with the rumous which induced the recent advance in the stock to near 160, that a realization was awakened of the large partial managed advance in prices.

This realization applied to the stock market as a whole, had much more to do with the day's heavy liquidation than any fresh incident in the news. The extensive covering by shorts in the process of realizing bear profits relieved a substantial part of the extreme declines, which ran to 3½ and nearly 5 points for the stocks most acutely affected. manifested in the wheat market and prices fluctuated over a range of 1½01½ cents for the active months. Late sentiment became bullish and the market closed at almost the highest point. Fears of a wet harvest in the southwest and relatively firm markets abroad imparted some strength at the opening but the firmness was soon dispelled on selling based on a further break in prices at the northwestern markets, prices dropping to a point about ½ cent below yesterday's closing. An official forecast of generally fair weather for the winter wheat belt and a report that new wheat from Tennessee had been sold to St. Louis interests today for immediate shipment were additional had been soid to St. Louis interests today for Immediate shipment were additional motives for selling. The late bulge was due largely to an oversold condition rather than to any bullish news, although some reports told of small clearings in western Kansas and of damage by rains in Maryland and other southeastern states. Local Produce Market

There have been no changes of any consequence in either the wholesale or retail provision markets during the last week and but few additions have been made to the already extensive line of products. Green groceries from the Utah gardens and farms are now on the markets in large quantities and selling at prices within the reach of all. Cauliflower has been added during the week and can be had at 15 cents a pound. The only changes made are in the prices of radishes and cucumbers, and in both cases the change has been for a lower figure. Flour, sugar and other staples remain without change and it is not believed on the market. Hay and grain passed another week without change and like flour the high prices on those products will remain in force until the new crop is available.

Fish and poultry remain without change.

$250 Coal Money

We collected $250 for Robert B. Lewis, the coal man of Ogden, Utah. This money was collected from a party who left Utah years ago and his address was unknown. We found him in Old Mexico. Now Mr. Lewis has the money. It does not make any difference where people may be. We can collect. The secret is in the discovery of the red streaks of honesty. Turn in your claims and we will collect some for you.
